

Problem Set 9

Answer 'yes' or 'no' unless otherwise indicated.

Does Jackson (in "Epiphenomenal Qualia") hold that:

1. Nagel's bat argument shows that physicalism is false?
2. the heavy coat of the polar bear is epiphenomenal?
3. it is completely mysterious how epiphenomenal qualia fit into the world as described by science?
4. physicalists are analogous to tough-minded sea slug philosophers?
5. a premise of the Knowledge argument is that imprisoned Mary does not know what it's like to be a normal person living in a multicolored environment?

Does Lewis (in "What Experience Teaches") hold that:

6. the Knowledge argument (as he reconstructs it) is sound?
7. the Hypothesis of Phenomenal Information implies that when Mary comes out of her black and white cell, she will only change in a way that is analogous to the change involved when one learns French?
8. Mary will not change at all when she sees a red thing for the first time?
9. we can't refer to a bat's experiences?
10. the Hypothesis of Phenomenal Information is false?
