

M. Diane Burton

Michael M. Koerner '49 Career Development Professorship

Behavioral Policy Science (BPS)

Biography

Diane Burton's field of interest is employment relations in entrepreneurial companies and human resource management practices. Currently, she is conducting a study of Silicon Valley start-ups, with an emphasis on sources and consequences of different organizational systems, structures, and practices. In ongoing research, she is studying entrepreneurial teams and executive careers.