

Blog Focus for Observations

This week your blog entry should focus on the classroom environment that you observed. What kind of activities were the students doing? What kinds of teaching methods did the teacher use? How were these methods effective or ineffective? How were they appropriate or inappropriate for the students that were in the class? What could have been done differently/more effectively in the class? Include as many specifics and examples as you can. Include anecdotes and observations about what particular students were doing.