

Technology Centered Environments

Based on your in-class (11.124) experiences with educational technologies, what you have learned from your research and what you have read about educational technologies, you will individually write a 3-4 page paper on whether (or not) creating technology-centered environments should be considered as a broad educational goal. Your paper will be graded on the following criteria:

1. Ability to integrate your experiences with educational theory and research.
2. Evidence to support your perspective on technology-centered environments.
3. Coherence and consistency writing.
