

Blog Focus

Based on classroom observations. Focus on one or two students. What do you think they are learning in the class? How do you figure this out? How does the teacher appear to be assessing what and how the students are learning?