

Homework #7

Due for class T 10/4

REVISE Essay 1.

Remember that revision isn't merely copy editing or polishing phrasing. To revise is literally to "re-see" your work. Be open to making significant changes such as re-ordering material or re-writing your introduction. Your aim is to shape your essay so that all the parts work together, framing your idea as effectively as possible.

Also make sure to proofread carefully and to eliminate any mistakes of grammar or syntax (sentence structure) still lurking in your prose.

- Make sure to hand in your 1st draft—the one with my comments—along with your revision. Include a cover sheet for the new draft with the following:

Essay 1/Draft 2

Name: _____

1) What has changed in this draft? Please point to specific things.

2) What do you like best about this essay?

3) What do you find most challenging about this essay?
