

1. In the space below, draw your own instrument from memory. Do not consult any physical instruments or pictures in the room.
(If you're a singer, you may choose any instrument to draw.)

Depict the entire instrument as precisely as you can with respect to its physical dimensions; the goal is to create an accurate technical drawing, rather than an expressive work of fine art. Feel free to provide multiple views (top, front, rear, side, etc.).

2. Draw a scale representation of approximately one foot (ca. 30 cm) of piano keyboard, as seen from directly above. As above, depict as precisely as you can the length and width of the various keys in relation to each other.
