orientation: creating an accessible environment

salome francpourmoi mio uchida rachel gealy
marissa grace desmond mass. ave
mass. ave

• disorientation
• discomfort
• confusion
• glaring
• linear
• dirty
• harsh
• loud orientation

• orientation is a function of the mind involving awareness of three dimensions: time, place and person
• problems with orientation lead to disorientation, and can be due to various conditions, from delirium to intoxication
• typically, disorientation is first in time, then in place and finally in person survey

• Where do you go for eating?
• Where do you go for supplies?
• What do you need? (literally)
• What are your favorite colors/color combinations?
• Where were you born? (town, state, country)
• What are the things that you crave for that are lacking here;
  o in this new life as architecture student o At or around MIT
  o In Cambridge
• What are your favorite things? (abstract or concrete, animal, vegetal or mineral, food, film, book, anything)
• Where would you like to be right now?
• What is your favorite place?
• What do you call home?
• Any thing/ direction you’d like your sign to point to?