PARTICIPATE in the DAILY MUSEUM OF AMAZEMENT

BE AMAZED.
Be amazed by the small things that happen in your daily life: sights, smells, ideas, observations, whatever inspires you or captures your imagination.

1. LEAVE A MESSAGE.
Call the hotline, describe your experience and what amazes you about it. No names necessary.

LISTEN.
Call again between 8 pm and midnight to hear the day’s messages, or stream them at www.thatwasamazing.org

(617) 395-5800

A neighborhood-based daily archive of phone messages reporting on experiences found to be amazing or inspirational. Reports are made in the moment of amazement and shared together by neighborhood residents via phone and online broadcast every evening.

www.thatwasamazing.org
I don't think I've seen her since that night before, and we've been married 13 years. You think there are no exceptions left, and then comes this hapless one.

I had assumed it was a dentist's office, but my dentist had the same kind of carpeting. It wasn't funny how something so simple as carpeting can say “dentist” right off the bat.

And so they passed. I heard the little girl say to her mom, “I think you're overthinking things.”

The bag kept swinging back and forth, my mind while I pondered, so I counted for a second, and then I heard a rhythm of Mary Higgins Clark style tag.

But you were always something, and when I tossed it, I tossed it. I can get by with less, and I tossed it. I don't find a rhythm of any Higgins charade style tag. But I tossed it.
Daily Museum of Amazement

Listen to archived broadcasts streaming mp3--playable with iTunes, Winamp, etc.

Read about the Daily Museum
what it is, and who contributes to it

Send e-mail feedback

THE MUSEUM HAS ENDED.

This is our neighborhood in Cambridge/Somerville, MA, where the Museum took place every day from April 21 - May 21, 2006→
Participate in the Daily Museum of Amazement

1. BE AMAZED.
   - Be amazed by the small things that happen in your daily life: sights, sounds, ideas, observations, whatever moves you or captures your imagination.

2. LEAVE A MESSAGE.
   - Copy the outline, describe your experience and what moves you about it. No names necessary.

3. LISTEN.
   - List to 6 pm and midnight to hear all the messages recorded.