* What does interaction with one's environment have to do with a liberal education?

* Should an educational institution reflect certain moral values?

* What effects might the Judeo-Christian tradition have on an education founded in them?

* What responsibilities does a school have to its graduates?

* What is a holistic approach to education?

* What advantages and disadvantages might the lack of required courses cause?

* Should a successful educational experiment severely limit its enrollment?