Lecture 32

Discussed how "absorbing boundaries" are implemented in the frequency domain via complex coordinate stretching, leading to the idea of perfectly matched layers (PML); see the notes. Showed some animations of wave propagation showing the effect of the boundaries and the impact of PML.