

Activity: Identify Your Website Type (5 minutes)

Before you start:

Read the brief descriptions below.

- Resume website (single-page overview): A fast, scannable snapshot of your experience that complements a traditional resume.
- Portfolio site: Your work is best communicated through projects, visuals, or artifacts rather than bullet points.
- Project or paper landing page: A focused page that explains a specific project, publication, or piece of research.
- Demo / technical site: Demonstrate technical skills through interactive tools, code, or live examples.
- Personal homepage or blog: A space to share ideas, writing, or interests alongside your professional work.

Instructions:

Write brief answers to the following:

- 1) What is the primary goal of your website right now? (e.g., recruiting, showcasing projects, sharing research, building visibility)
- 2) Which website type best supports that goal at this stage?
- 3) What is one thing you want a visitor to understand about you within 30 seconds?

MIT OpenCourseWare
<https://ocw.mit.edu/>

RES.16-9960 The Engineering Student's Guide to Effective Technical Communication
Spring 2026

For information about citing these materials or our Terms of Use, visit: <https://ocw.mit.edu/terms>.